

TEACHER OF THE MONTH FOR OCTOBER 2015

Margaret Olson – Stanwood High School, Career and Technical Education, Agriculture Science

Nominated by: Christopher Mandella

Ms. Olson is extremely dedicated to her students and making sure that they receive an excellent education.

Her work in the Agricultural Department has inspired me in following my dreams of becoming a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine. I now have a job at Northwest Vet Clinic and will be attending college in the upcoming Fall to major in Animal Science because of the guidance Ms. Olson has provided me with. Any time I have a question, in or out of class, Ms. Olson is always there to help and offer a knowledgeable and caring opinion.

Ms. Olson is extremely dedicated to her job and I have seen her many times before and after school working with students, myself included, on a number of tasks. She is always there as a reliable and caring teacher. I have personally been at Stanwood High School for 4 years now and I have been in numerous AP and Honors classes, but I feel that Ms. Olson has best provided me with the best education to help me in my future. I have maintained a 4.0 GPA since the 6th grade and I know when I have a teacher who is caring and dedicated to their work and students, and Ms. Olson has never failed to prove these characteristics to me.

Thank you for reading my nomination.
